Virginia State Briefs

Danville.—Dairymen of this immediate section met here and organized a Dairymen's Association, purpose of which is a general improvement of the product along co-operative lines.

Lynchburg.—Senator Carter Glass, who suffered an attack of stomach poisoning shortly after his return here from the Democratic National Convention, has recovered sufficiently to be able to leave for Washington. Senator Glass expects to clear his desk of all important matters before returning to his farm near this city.

Staunton.—Despite their efforts to be divorced from Waynesboro, Basic folk must be content with consolidation as voted at the special election of November when the two South River District towns of Waynesboro and Basic said, through the ballot, that they would consolidate under one administration.

Lynchburg.—Don P. Halsey, who formerly represented the Senatorial district of Lynchburg and Campbell county in the State Senate, will be a candidate in the primary August, 1925, for Lieutenant-Governor, it is said, though he has not as yet formally announced his candidacy. Halsey is an attorney at law here.

Lynchburg.—Miss Edith R. Spear, for three years physical director of the Y. W. C. A. at Passaic, N. J., has accepted the same position with the Y. W. here and will succeed Miss Mildred Maxey September 1. Miss Maxey came here two years ago from the association at Pawtucket, R. I. She resigned in return to her home.

Fredericksburg.—James Schmidt and Lester Houseman were before Mayor Crothers, of Colonial Beach, charged with receiving a shipment of two barrels of beer and transporting the same in "a push cart" at night on the streets of Colonial Beach. They were sent on to the grand jury in Westmoreland Circuit Court.

Lynchburg.—C. R. Wood, municipal playground director here, has resigned his position here to accept similar work at Raleigh, N. C., where he is to be superintendent of playground work and physical director of the public schools. He has been at the head of the municipal work here about three years. He goes to Raleigh September 1st.

Charlottesville.—Dr. Lindsay Rogers, associate professor of government at Columbia University, will deliver a series of lectures on "The Present Problems of European Politics" at the second term of the University of Virginia summer quarter. Dr. Rogers will begin his course of lectures on Monday, August 11, and will speak in Cabell Hall each night at 8 o'clock.

Fredericksburg.—Before a large audience in the open-air theater of the State Teachers' College the junior class in the primary course successfully produced a historical play, the scenes of which were laid in Fred ericksburg. The play is a conclusion of a class project in the study of Fredericksburg. The play was written and produced by the class under the direction of Dr. W. J. Young, head of the social science department.

Richmond.—Norman H. Davis, president of the Woodrow Wilson Foundation, has written Governor Trinkle asking him to nominate some Virginian for the first award made by that body since its creation. The foundation is permitted to make an award from its income from time to time by a nation ally constituted jury to the individual or group that has rendered within a specified period, meritorious service to democracy, public welfare, liberal thought or peace through justice.

Williamsburg.—Frank Armistead, attorney representing A. F. Jester, of Smithfield, who is preparing to establish a ferry service across the James river between Jamestown Island and Scotland Wharf, in Surry county, has filed an application for that purpose with the court of James City county.- Notice of filing the application has to be posted for fifteen days, after which the court may set upon it. A similar application addressed to the court of Surry county, has been approved, and it is thought there is no question of the one presented to the James City court being approved.

Richmond.—This city will lead the State in celebrating National Defense Day, September 12, military men predicted. A parade of military, civic and patriotic organizations will feature the city's part in mobilization day, according to tentative plans.

Winchester.—A Democrat cannot vote for La Follette, or Coolidge, and remain a Democrat with the right to vote in Virginia Democratic primaries Harry Flood Byrd, chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee, declared in a statement issued here.

Richmond.—The death of Arnold Wagner, aged 56, well-known local musician, was ascribed by relatives to grief over the loss of his wife, Mrs. Mollie Wagner, who dropped dead a year or so ago. They said that he literally pined away grieving for her.

Seven hundred national guardsmen will take part in the celebration, it was decided at a conference between Assistant Chief of Staff W. W. [illegible] and Colonel C. C. Collins, commander of the Third Corps Area. Colonel John A. Cutchins probably will be selected to command the Richmond military unit. Dr. Douglas S. Freeman will be chairman of the celebration.

Harrisonburg.—A loss of $15,000 resulted from Harrisonburg's second largest fire of the year, when J. Holmes Moore's planing mill and lumber sheds, at the southern edge of the city, were destroyed by fire of unknown origin. The plant was valued at $21,000, with only $6,000 insurance. This is the second time in ten years that the Moore plant has been destroyed.

Harrisonburg.—Marcus A. Johnson, 30, a colored convict from Newport News, serving an eighteen-year sentence for highway robbery, was shot to death at State convict camp No. 23, eight miles south of here, when he threatened to attack Sergeant L. B. Keams. Earl Reynolds, a guard, fired the shot and later was exonerated by a coroner's jury, the verdict holding that the act was "in the discharge of his duty."

Danville.—A 12-inch water main, resting on the bottom of Dan river and supplying North Danville with water, has sprung a leak and it has been necessary to build a cofferdam in the river to expose the faulty joints. The pipe line, now partially exposed, is found to have been thrown out of its alignment either by the pressure of water or by drifting debris. The leakage was discovered by a city workman, who saw a surge in the calm surface of the river.

Richmond.—Copies of "Virginia Statutes of 1924," an address made to the Virginia State Bar Association by C. H. Morrisett, director of the Legislative Reference Bureau, are being mailed to judges and attorneys all over the State. The work is a comprehensive summary of the 240 general laws enacted at the last session of the Legislature, Mr. Bottom, Superintendent of Public Printing, has made 3,000 copies of the address.

Fredericksburg.—Otis Porter, 16, and Jack Lewis, 15, two negro boys, were arrested by county authorities and are now in King George jail awaiting trial. The youths, following their arrest, confessed to Commonwealth's Attorney Joseph Billingsley they were the parties responsible for throwing rocks and sticks from ambush at motorists on the King's highway at night. A stick, thought to have been thrown by the young prisoners, shattered a window of the car of R. R. Buffington, of this city, Sunday night and showered glass about members of his family.

Richmond.—"Not guilty" is the verdict of Governor Nichols in the case of Commissioner McDonald, Jr., whose alleged extravagance and misuse of the State boat, Commodore Maury, was the subject of the recent sensational legislative investigation in the modern history of the State.

Acting on authority conferred upon him by the General Assembly, which adopted a resolution leaving final disposition of the charges against the commissioner entirely in his hands, the Governor issued a statement saying, "there is nothing for me to do but to receive and concur in the majority report signed by five of the seven members of the committee and allow the same to stand as giving the true result of the investigation."

The majority report completely exonerated Mr. Lee of the charges of extravagance in office and of immoral conduct on board the Commodore Maury, a specific charge made before the committee by R. M. Tomlinson, former member of the Maury crew.

The practical result of the investigation, according to the governor's statement, will include the giving up of the offices in Murphy's Hotel and the installation of the commissioner in the State Office Building. The house boat will be sold as soon as a purchaser can be found, the commissioner will "abandon the custom . . . transporting persons from place to place on the Maury and to some extent to take pleasure trips on board the boat," and the Maury will be replaced by a smaller patrol boat which will cost less to operate. These recommendations are included in the Governor's statement.

Danville.—William Pugh, 5-year-old son of Swan Pugh, of Schoolfield, was instantly killed by a train at Washington street crossing. Clarence Pugh, his brother, aged 7, leaped to safety and missed death by inches. The boys were going home. They waited for a southbound freight to pass, then stepped from behind the last car into the path of the northbound flyer. The lad was tossed high into the air before the eyes of several people and was picked up dead. His father was at Greensboro, N. C., at the time.

Must Pay

Looting the public seems to have developed into a national pastime but the guilty fall hard when justice overtakes them. A man who stole from the treasury of his health is just as guilty as the fellow who dishonestly secures wealth and the inexorable laws of nature will much more certainly run him down.

Women's Feet Deformed

Ninety-nine pairs of women's feet out of a 100 are horribly deformed by the wearing of high-heeled shoes, says Sir Hubert Barker, the famous manipulative surgeon, of London, who avers that he has seen in the course of his work as a bonesetter more women's feet than any other person in the world.

HIXBURG

If anyone doubts that it has been oppressively hot at Hixburg just ask Baxter Marshall. When a man perspires so profusely that he has to remove his shoes and pour the water out—and he can prove it by his wife (he says) that he did), we know that the thermometer has taken a high jump.

A few days ago the road machine passed and the men hung their heads and stood "at attention". Only Ed McPhillips had a big grin. He'd lost so much time pulling out cars. Less than two months ago three automobiles and two trucks were stuck in the road just below H. M. Marshall's. One truck was loaded with a cow —she was most accomodating when she had to be taken from the truck so it could be pulled out of the mud.

Mrs. W. M. Ervin and children left Badin, N. C., a distance of 250 miles last Friday morning and reached here 2:50 p. m. The car driver said the worse road they went over was from Pamplin to Hixburg.

We hear that our road Supervisor is doing good work, so we try to say nothing even if we do get knocked up to the top of the car and see "blue" sometimes, (ur road may be worsed some day.

The sweet strains of music that you hear when passing through the village comes from Mrs. Wilson Hix's. She has a new house and a new piano so naturally she would feel like singing.

Someone wonders around very lonesome in the evenings since Miss Cullen James has returned to Bluefield, Va., and another bachelor's car remains in the garage now that Miss Josephine Swan has gone back to Bluefield, W. Va. Hixburg people like Bluefield girls.

Rev. Saunders Jones of Lynchburg, filled Mr. Parker's appointment at Matthew's Baptist church this week. There will be two services on Friday, morning and afternoon, which will close the meeting. On the other days preaching will be in the morning and at eight o'clock in the evening.

On Sunday afternoon rain, wind and small hailstones swept through here and damaged the tobacco crops in this vicinity.

"All shaven and shorn", Mr. W. A. Swan stepped into his buggy, "en-route" to church Sunday morning. He flourished his whip, and his steed sprang forward breaking the singletree and throwing him out. The injuries sustained were painful but not serious.

John H. McCue is on a trip to Bluefield and other places in West Virginia.

Early this morning a young man passed my home on horse back at a fast rate of speed with something dragging from the saddle and in a very short time four young hounds came along yelping at their best, the sight of which was all our correspondent back to the days of Messrs. Willie Thornton and Joshey Clark of Pamplin, when they would put a colored boy a head dragging a fox tail and such a chase they would have training puppies to run a fox.

After starting to church last Sunday morning W. A. Swan was accidently thrown from his buggy and has been confined to his room for the past few days.

Mrs. James Durphy of Lynchburg, is on a visit to Mesdames. Charlie Rosser, John M. McCue, Lila Swan and other friends in the county.

Mrs. Bawry of Burkeville, Secretary of the W. M. U., and Mrs. J. H. McCue spent Sunday in mission work on Staunton River.

Miss Hellen Glenn of Prospect, was week-end guest of Miss Ruth Swan.

Miss Rosa Fore, who has been on a visit to her uncle in W. Va., has returned home.

Our colored people are having a camp meeting with Mt. Pleasant church at this place; the writer can remember such an occasion here about forty years ago.

Patrick Walker, a prosperous and highly respected colored man, died Saturday morning and was buried Sunday at Hurtsville. It is gratifying to state that the general trend of the colored population in this neighborhood is for a better citizenship.

Miss Ethel Jamerson spent last week with friends at Charlotte C. H.

Miss Mamie Cole of New York, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Cole.

Miss Wilsie Gilliam is visiting relatives in Bedford City and Lynchburg.

Mrs. Lillie Irving has been visiting friends in Lynchburg.

Bruce Gilliam and grandson, Lawrence Wilkerson, spent a few days in Roanoke last week.

F. M. Irving motored to Lynchburg Saturday.

Mr and Mrs. Ed Harker left this A. M. for their home in Badin, N. C., after spending vacation with homefolk near here.

FOREST VIEW

We are having very hot weather, but good rains frequently and some of the crops are looking very well.

Revival services closed last night at Central Baptist church. There were some splendid sermons preached by Mr. Thom...s of Red Horse, who helped the pastor, Mr. Burnette. We hope much good has been done.

Mr and Mrs. T. T. Marshall and three sons have returned to their home in Portsmouth, Ohio, after visiting relatives in the county.

Mr. Collier Marshall of Ohio, is now visiting his mother, Mrs. Fetna Marshall, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. T. H. Ford.

Mrs. E. Laughlin, little daughter, Helias, and Miss Evie Ford, of Lynchburg, spent last week with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frances Ford was to leave yesterday for Creek, where she will visit her aunt, Mrs. Minnix.

Mrs. Annie Odor spent a few days last week with her sister, Mrs. B. C. Simms, near Evergreen.

Miss Verta Simms spent last week with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Martin.

Mrs. Leonard Ford and little daughter, of Lynchburg, visited relatives in the neighborhood last week.

Mrs. Henry White and daughter Jessie, have returned to their home in Richmond, after visiting in the home of N. D. Marshall.

ROCKS NEWS

Since the refreshing rains the crops, such as they are, are improving.

What we hope to be a great revival is being conducted at Rocks Baptist church this week, the Billy Sunday Boys and Virginia Asher Girls having charge. The meeting began Sunday night and will continue through the entire week.

Misses Annie and Martha Elsmon of Madison Heights, and Mary McCraw of Lynchburg, are guests of Miss Gertrude Ranson this week.

Miss Virginia Almond is visiting in Roanoke.

Johnny Paris of Lynchburg, visited friends here Sunday.

Aubrey Ranson of Winchester, Va., visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Ranson last week-end He says his motorcycle did fine—turning "turtle" only three times —once in the creek.

Mrs. Lump Meadows and grandson are spending a few weeks in their summer cottage, Their home is in Lynchburg. Her daughter, Alice, is visiting her.

Mrs. Will Almond is visiting her daughters in Lynchburg.

Misses "Teeny" Tyol, Emily Rose, and Edith Paris of Lynchburg, visited Mrs. J. D. Hamilton, Sunday.

Lesson for August 17

JESUS CLEANSES THE TEMPLE

LESSON TEXT—John 2:13-22.

GOLDEN TEXT—"My house shall be called the house of prayer."—Matthew 21:13.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Jesus Loves His Father's House.

JUNIOR TOPIC—Jesus and the Temple.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Jesus Cares for God's House.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Jesus Cares for God's House.

I. Attending the Passover Feast (vs. 13).

The people went up to Jerusalem very often to attend various feasts. Beginning of the year (this month) was the beginning of the religious year. He was under the law and was obedient to it. He observed it (Deut. 16:16). He went up because He believed it was right. It is important that all people from their youth up make the attendance upon the house of God a habit of their lives.

II. The Temple Defiled (vs. 14). Instead of worshipers in the temple there were those who were engaged in buying and selling. Many persons came from all parts of the land; therefore, it was convenient to bring their animals to the temple to sell. Many persons came from a distance and could not bring the animals needed. The law had granted to the people (Deut. 14:24-26). This exchange was necessary, but when evil men saw an opportunity for gain it became a curse instead of a blessing. Christ was displeased to see any so-called service of God today He is displeased to see it just as angry at the temple as He was at the temple in Jerusalem. One of the most common forms of evil in the church is the desire for gain. (vs. 15-17).

1. Driving Out the Animals (vs. 15). Animals are driven out by fear. They know their master. Christ's power was manifested in the fact that He could drive out the animals. Christ was the Messenger of the covenant. He came to His temple. He knows the condition of the church. He sees the evil practices. He knows the power of sin. He knows the power of righteousness. He knows the power of God. He knows the power of the devil. He knows the power of the world. He knows the power of the flesh. He knows the power of the spirit. He knows the power of the truth. He knows the power of the lie. He knows the power of the light. He knows the power of the darkness. He knows the power of the life. He knows the power of the death. He knows the power of the resurrection. He knows the power of the judgment. He knows the power of the heaven. He knows the power of the hell. He knows the power of the eternity. He knows the power of the time. He knows the power of the space. He knows the power of the matter. He knows the power of the energy. He knows the power of the force. He knows the power of the motion. He knows the power of the rest. He knows the power of the work. He knows the power of the play. He knows the power of the love. He knows the power of the hate. He knows the power of the joy. He knows the power of the sorrow. He knows the power of the peace. He knows the power of the war
